Zeugheersaal

BANQUETS WHERE ROYALTY ONCE HELD THEIR CELEBRATIONS

When the ballroom designed by Leonhard Zeugheer (1812 -1866) first opened its doors on 1 June 1865, Empress Eugenie, consort of Napoleon III, residing at the hotel at the time praised the premises, stating there could be few halls of greater splendour in France itself. Little has changed in that respect since that day. Indeed, the Neo-Renaissance style of the hall is more resplendent today than ever before. So speakers beware: the sheer beauty of it may leave you speechless...

The space of 360 sqm can be arranged up to your needs: As it is with covered tables in white and chair covers, with standing tables, additional stages or dance floor.

Capacities
Banquet	300 people (without stage)
Cocktail	500 people
Theatre	350 people

The Wintergarten with its unique stained-glass window is a wonderful extension to the Zeugheersaal. It is ideally suited to accommodate groups and speakers, or to serve as a backstage area. In combination with the Zeugheersaal, it provides the perfect setting for banquets of up to 350 guests (without stage).
